Dedicated to Safe Fishing in and around Marco Island

President's Message for October 2022

It is Fall in Marco and that means two things... Redfish and Snowbirds. Yes, snowbirds now begin to arrive on island recently as early as October. We are hoping that the Redfish return as well.

What we did not want to return was a hurricane to close out the month. However, Ian had other ideas. Hopefully, all of you managed to get through this storm with your loved ones, homes, and boats intact.

Prior to Ian, catches of slot-sized and over Redfish have been scarce in September. However, there have been a few, most notably were a 32 ¾" bull redfish landed by Ed Brown, and a 32 ¼" bull hauled in by Pete A. The "Snook and a Redfish" event held recently, looked to reverse the trend, and add a few nice sized Redfish to that tournament's final tally. See Ron Linn's report in this edition.

Speaking of Redfish... we will hold our two big Redfish events. The "Redfish XVII Team" event and the "Redfish Two-Man" event. "Redfish XVII" will commence the second week of October, feature two days for captains to pick as their fishing day – and a picnic/awards ceremony.

The "Redfish Two-Man" event follows closely in the third week of October and pits teams of two anglers attempting to land a "legal catch" of two slot redfish. Anglers from both events and their guests, may attend the picnic. For more details, please read the articles in this edition.

Snook season opened on September 1st and many under sized snook have been caught. The big snook seem to still be offshore. Divers from the club have reported large schools of snook at most of the near shore reefs with fish in the 40" range.

The annual "Smoked Pork Cook-Off Picnic" was held on September 8th, during a brief window of clear skies, at Sarazen Park at 4:00PM. This event replaced the September general meeting, and 70 members attended the barbecue. This picnic included the MSC "Chef's Challenge" to determine the "2022 Best Chef". Our celebrity Judges: Cindy Marotta (The Speakeasy); CJ Muntwyler (Marco Island Brewery); and Laura Owen (CJ's on the Bay) sampled the pulled pork from each chef and named the Best Chef... Well, to find out who won read the article in this edition.

In addition to Redfish in October, the club will begin a new era by adding the emails of the spouses or significant others from our family memberships into our eblast database. This will mean that both members of the family will receive all eblasts for our club events. This fixes a gap in our communications process so spouses will be better informed about all club events.

We will hold a general meeting at St Mark's parish Hall on October 6th, and this meeting will feature another presentation in our "Speaker Series", Captain Rodney Raffield of "Everglades Backcountry Experience". Capt. Raffield will talk about backwater fishing techniques. This presentation will also include a raffle for a fishing charter with Captain Raffield.

Our "Offshore Slam, proudly sponsored by Rose Marina", will enter its 10th month of non-stop action. OK, maybe there were a few stops due to weather.

Since the FWC and NOAA Fisheries closed the red grouper season, Jim Scarpa will not hold a Super Grouper event in December as a result. Jim is thinking about adding a Snapper event in its place.

At the October meeting we will begin the registration process for the "2022 MSC Holiday Party". The gala event will be held at Eagle Creek Country Club on December 8th. Look for the flyer in this edition

Our 2023 New Member open enrollment period began at the beginning of September and all new member signing up now will become a member of Marco Sportfishing Club for 2023 – and additionally, will enjoy the benefits of membership for the remainder of 2022. Dues renewal for existing members begins on November 1st

Post Ian thoughts

October 1, 2022....

Late Tuesday afternoon, September 27th, Marco Island issued a “mandatory evacuation” for a storm everyone thought was headed north to Tampa and would have left Marco out of the “cone”. Early that day, the storm began to wobble and change direction, and slowly the landfall target slipped south.

Marco was still going to be south of the expected landfall, but the clockwise circulation around this Category IV storm would bring storm surge in its wake.

Those that could, made plans to head east and wait out the storm in Miami, Ft Lauderdale, and Boca Raton. Those unable, or unwilling to evacuate, battened down the hatches and secured their homes, boat(s), and families.

The storm was less of a rain event on Marco, and more a wind and water event. As Wednesday dawned, the wind-driven waters on the Gulf and open waterways and bays began to rise. Small groups of members kept in touch via text messaging, checking to see if anyone needed food, or fuel for their generators, or ice for their coolers.

Reports of water heights were shared along with photos, and we were all worried that serious damage was about to occur. Many members had water in their garages, or their boats were floating off their lifts and power outages accelerated.

This is from my condo on Smokehouse Bay. Our seawall and dock were replaced recently at the new seawall height – yet it is not visible.

Luckily, the tide went out and most of the surge water went with it - but the winds continued non-stop.

Those members with home generators had power, some very limited, but without a generator – it was a total power outage.

Many boats and jet skis were drifting in the canals. Some were hanging off the lifts – and with no power, not much could be done. Some found new resting places.

Today, many people on Marco have power restored, although some pockets of outages remain. Publix and Winn-Dixie have opened. However, many businesses are still closed. Some have major damage – like the Snook Inn.

I am thankful that our ordeal was less challenging than during Irma, and far less devastating than experienced by Ft. Myer’s Beach, Sanibel, and the communities that surround them.

Marco Island and the Marco Sportfishing Club will repair and rebuild as necessary, but some things, like the iconic “Dome Homes”, are gone forever.

Keith

October Speaker Series – Capt. Rodney Raffield

In an effort to advance our membership's angling techniques, each month we have searched out the best guides (Backwater and Offshore) to present to our club. This "Speaker Series" program, so far, Captains Brandon Acosta, Steve Dall, Ken Chambers, and Aron Blaisdell for backwater, offshore, Captain Jed and Captain Hawkins have presented informative and educational lectures and Q & A of their craft.

It's about time to get ready for the Marco Sportfishing Club's premier tournament month, Redfish Month!

We are pleased to bring another skilled guide that fishes these waters every day.

"Everglades Backcountry Experience", Captain Rodney Raffield.

Capt. Rodney is a 6th generation Chokoloskee native! Born for these waters, a stone crabber initially, bringing a 48' crab boat thru Chokoloskee Bay is no easy feat, so imagine how well he knows those waters. As a guide for 20 years, he fishes from a skinny water 18' aluminum boat, accommodating two anglers that can share a wide platform up front as you meander thru the redfish laden oyster bars.

He will present his techniques and answer questions and hopefully bring in some Everglades history.

Captain Rodney's easy going Everglades style will be a fun night for all.

These guides are providing meeting attendees with invaluable knowledge gleaned over years of hard work and time on the water. Please support them.

Raffle tickets for a charter with Capt. Raffield will be sold at the October 6th meeting,

1 ticket for $5 and 5 for $20.

Offshore Update – Oct 2022

What's Happening Offshore...

ARS (American Red Snapper) - If you missed the summer season, or want to catch more ARS, there are 5 fall season weekends starting in October – Oct 8-9, 15-16, 22-23, Nov 11-13 and 25-27. Go get em!

Red Grouper is closed to recreational anglers and for hire vessels through Dec 31, 2022 in state and federal waters. I do not recommend catch and release for these fish during the closed season due to the potentially high barotrauma mortality rate, let them be and they will be plentiful when the season re-opens.

As always, Snapper are out there on the reefs, wrecks and ledges at all depths. There have been some nice snapper caught of late, including some nice Muttons, with many in shallower water (50-90') near reefs / wrecks. Be aware of predators, reel as fast as you can until the fish is in the boat and do not let it linger in the water near the boat or it will be "upgraded". Cobia will begin to migrate through soon, keep a live bait or big jig handy in case one pulls up behind your boat. African Pompano have been plentiful of late, typically near structure and as shallow as 80'. AJ's are around structure as well and season is open again until Nov 1. Spanish Mackerel schools are showing up feeding on the bait schools, look for surface activity and working birds to locate them, they are lots of fun on light tackle – don't forget the wire leader! Trolling lures or drifting larger live baits on the outer edges of the Spanish Mackerel schools may find a hungry King too. Permit are still here for another month or so, try the wrecks and reefs with higher relief and towers, they usually cannot resist a live crab.

Pick a calm day and get out there and have some fun...and be safe.

Offshore Events...

MSC Offshore Slam 2022, proudly sponsored by Rose Marina

We have 27 anglers signed up and some great prizes, don't forget to measure / photograph your catch and email them to me for entry. Current standings are attached. We have 2 anglers that have completed their Slam and several others that are close...it's going to get very interesting and competitive as we enter the final 4 months of the tournament fishing window!

Please show your appreciation to the great team at Rose Marina by giving them your business, and use your MSC membership card to get your club discount on fishing tackle / bait too.

Super Grouper Fall 2022 – Will not be held due to the closure of Red Grouper season. We will be working on a Snapper / Cuda event, details will be coming soon.

Other Important Stuff...

Check out the Offshore Fishing reports on the MSC website, they are on the Offshore Homepage.

Offshore Captains – Offshore Fishing Report submissions have started to come in again, thank you. Don't forget to send me your Offshore Fishing Reports and photos of any remarkable catches when you return from fishing!

If you fish offshore and want to be added to our offshore email distribution, please send me a request via the link on the Offshore Fishing homepage and I will gladly add you to this exclusive team.

TRIPLE CROWN TOURNAMENT UPDATE

By Dave Schott

We're nearly to the last 30 days of the Triple Crown Tournament which will end on October 31st. Ken Robertson continues to hold the top spot! Several other anglers are closing in while others are hoping for that elusive tarpon to put them in the running. Go to the MSC website to see current standings.

Speaking of tarpon, Vic Ortega was relieved after last year's 2.5 hour epic tarpon battle to recently land this "modest size" 32.5" silver king. For those wondering, Vic is displaying proper technique with a horizontal hold and belly support for a less than 40" tarpon which FWC permits taking from the water for a quick pic.

Also notable this month is the great pic of Pete Arcidiacano with his 32.25" redfish. Not only is the fish a beauty but Pete's obvious excitement is contagious. It reminds me of why I love this sport! Good luck to all as we close in on another fun finish.

MSC Kayak Group Trip
August 27, 2021 – Chokoloskee Bay
A Water Quality Wake-Up Call

The MSC Kayakers returned to one of our favorite venues, Chokoloskee Bay, for a beautiful day trip in Everglades National Park. Fishing was a little slow in the morning, but as the tide turned and the incoming water filled the waterways and started to cover the oyster bars, the action picked up. No changes were made to the “Kayak Leaderboard” during this outing for the 2022 kayak fishing challenge, but Dave Schott did land a nice snook!

Dave Schott
Snook

Ken Robertson and Victor Ordija

The Kayak Group has been fishing the Chokoloskee Bay/Everglades National Park area for years. The fishing has always been good here and the water has been clean. However, as we headed back across Chokoloskee Bay with the incoming tide, we noticed something in the water that we haven't seen here before...lots of brown algae floating on the surface. This looks like the same brown algae that has been seen floating in the Marco Island canals for the past few years. Up until now, we thought that by fishing south, in Everglades National Park, we could avoid the water quality issues. It looks like those days are over. As we approached the launch we were in for another surprise. The incoming tide had pushed the brown algae in the bay towards the shore, and as we approached, what looked like a sandy beach was, in reality, about 20 yards of thick, brown algae that we had to travel through in order to get our kayaks out of the water. Not a very pleasant sight or something any of us wanted to do!

The fact that this algae has now moved south and into what, up until now, was regarded as “clean” water should give us all something to think about. Water quality issues effect what our waterways look like and also have an effect on the amount of oxygen in the water. As the oxygen levels decrease, the fish will move to other areas where the water provides a “healthier” environment. There is also research being done into the long-term effects of living near “impaired” water and breathing whatever may be released into the air.

We all moved to this area in one way or another for the water...to look at it, swim in it, or for the wide variety of fish that could be caught here. Slowly but surely, this is all slipping away! If you haven't gotten involved before, please look at what is happening around us right now and take action. Join forces with groups that are trying to do things that will have a positive effect on water quality; support local, regional and state candidates that have water quality as their top priority or just make other people aware of the seriousness of the problem. If we could get everyone to understand the problem, that could be the start of a solution!

Smoke Off Picnic

Mother Nature looked kindly upon the Marco Island Sportfishing Club on Thursday Sept. 9 when members met at Sarazen Park for their annual "Smoke Off" Picnic! The rain stopped just before 4:00 and stayed away until we were safely home! Four members smoked pork butts which were then judged by the general managers of three Marco restaurants: Cindy Marotta (The Speakeasy), CJ Muntwyler (Marco Island Brewery) and Laura Owen (CJ's on the Bay). Once the winners were determined, almost 70 members happily dined on the smoked meat with all the fixins'.

The First Place winner was Ed Vesely, Second Place John Baker and Third Place was shared by Brent Paulson and Pete Arcidiacono.
